A Failure Of Capitalism The

A Failure of Capitalism: The Crisis of '08 and the Descent into Depression is a 2009 book by the economist Richard Posner. The text was initially published on May 1, 2009 by Harvard University Press. Posner criticizes President George W. Bush and his administration's policies and the response to the fiscal crisis, and moves away from his past well-known advocacy of free-market capitalism. The book has been primarily noted not for his criticism of progressive government policies, but rather his c

The title says it all, 'a failure of capitalism', not 'the failure', this just explains in detail the causes of the 'great recession' of 2008-present. There isn't much in the way of suggestions for change, condemnation of the current system, or even a critique of capitalism itself. It's more of a historical account.

5 Reasons Capitalism Has Failed - Alternet.org

Less than two decades into the twenty-first century, it is evident that capitalism has failed as a social system. The world is mired in economic stagnation, financialization, and the most extreme inequality in human history, accompanied by mass unemployment and underemployment, precariousness, poverty, hunger, wasted output and lives, and what at this point can only be called a planetary ecological “death spiral.” 1 The digital revolution, the greatest technological advance of our time ...
