Strafbattalion Hitlers Penal Battalions

Strafbataillon is the generic term for penal units that were created from prisoners during the Second World War in all branches of the Wehrmacht. Soldiers and civilian criminals sentenced to those units were generally poorly armed and required to undertake dangerous high-casualty missions. The Strafbataillon were operated and administered by the Feldgendarmerie, the German military police. By 1943, the course of the war had turned against Nazi Germany. Military

CALL THEM THE Fuhrer's "Dirty Dozens.". The German army's strafbattalions were infantry units made up largely of convicts, felons, malingerers and thugs. Inmates in these de facto 'marching prisons' could expect only the most hazardous and backbreaking of assignments. When they weren't being deployed as common labourers, penal units fought as shock troops or were thrown into losing battles to defend hopeless positions.
