So I've written a whole book about starting a street food business, from the ground up. I have christened it "Street Food Soliloquy", in honour of it's online origins. It's lost a proportion of the waffle, tries to stay on track slightly more than the blog does and is now available in paperback. Before anyone thinks I have a proper ...

Street food is ready-to-eat food or drink sold by a hawker, or vendor, in a street or other public place, such as at a market or fair. It is often sold from a portable food booth, food cart, or food truck and meant for immediate consumption. Some street foods are regional, but many have spread beyond their region of origin. Most street foods are classed as both finger food and fast food, and ...
